JOLLY ELKS IN BURNT CORK.

The Annual Minstrel Show
Makes a Big Hit.

HOUSE WAS LARGE.

Music, Mirth and Fun Galore
By Amateur Performers.

The annual minstrel show by the Elks, at the Opera House Monday night, was equal to many professional performances. It was hastily prepared, but the program was a round of fun from start to finish.

The first part was as follows:

S. A. Grubbs, Interlocutor.
Comedians on the end—Jack Tobin, Ben Winfree, Tom Underwood, Buck Anderson, Claude Clark, Frank Southall, Lawson Flack, Will Wickes.

No. 1—local song.

Traveling.....Tom Underwood

No. 2—Coon Philosophy.

What's the Use o' Knockin'.....Ben Winfree

No. 3—March Song.

The Good Old U. S. A.....

No. 4—Comic Song.

Sally.....Buck Anderson

No. 5—End Song.

Poor Old Man.....Claude Clark

No. 6—A Darkey Lamentation.

My Lovin' Henry.....Frank Southall

No. 7—Tenor Ballad.

When the Bees are in the Hive.....Charles Kincannon

No. 8—Jungle Song.

Crocodile Isle.....Jack Tobin

The special scenery and costumes were supplied by Mr. Grubbs. The first row of the semicircle, containing the comedians and singers, was in black face and was attired in handsome fancy costumes. The rear rows, which the chorus composed, wore costly and lovely satin court costumes, powdered wigs and chap-eaux. The jokes, gags and local hits were well presented and greeted with much applause.

Where all did well it would be unfair to particularize, but the "big hits" were made by Tom Underwood, Gus Brannon, Claude Clark, Frank Southall and Jack Tobin.

The Olio consisted of specialties by R. B. Spalding and Cole Wicks, the "strong men," in the funny act in which they concluded by lifting a weight marked "2,000 lbs." Jack Tobin distinguished himself in monologue, and vocal solo roles.

The program concluded with a costume drill in which the following members participated:

Ed Clark, Jewell Smith, Will Terry, Jack Tate, Ed Courtney, Ed Callis, Reese Bell, Dr. Feirstein, Dave Smith, Robert Hille, Leslie P'Pool, Lucian Davis, John Owsley, Wallace Roper, Murrell Donaldson, E. T. Libby.

Lebkuecher's orchestra furnished excellent music. The local management was in charge of Claude Clark, James D. Russell, Dr. Feirstein and A. B. Anderson. The lodge cleared $197.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Organized Monday Night at Madisonville.

They are going to move things in the way of development at Madisonville. A commercial club was organized there last Monday night with fifty members as a starter. Mr. I. Bailey, a leading capitalist, was the moving spirit. Wonder how long it will be before the Hopkinsville commercial club and that of Madisonville will be colloquing together as to what is next? There is plenty of room for both of them to find something to do.

PEMBROKE BOOMERS

Were In the City Yesterday
Pushing the Salubria
Hotel Scheme.

BUNCH OF BOOSTERS.

Promise to Build Trolley
to Hopkinsville if Lots
Are Sold.

About fifteen prominent Pembroke citizens were in town yesterday, booming the new Salubria Springs hotel project. They brought with them a plat showing the proposed Chautauqua grounds, with the lots that have been placed on the market, the location of the springs, hotel, lake and other interesting features. The Pembroke people are behind the proposition in dead earnest and are pledging themselves to erect the hotel and build a trolley line from Pembroke to this city.

They say the thing is already an assured success, but they still have some choice lots for sale to the Hopkinsville people. Several lots were sold yesterday.

The gentlemen who were here were:

Jno. H. Pendleton, J. W. Cross, D. L. Lander, Eldon Crutchfield, A. O. Dority, J. B. Carter, Jno. H. Williams, Guy Dority, J. D. Jameson, Chas. E. Mann, Frank Butler, Dr. W. A. Lackey, K. P. Cross, Douglas Graham.

Reach the cause; relieve the pain.
They cure, too, so Hopkinsville peo-

Mrs. J. T. Johnson, wife of J. T. Johnson, superintendent of streets, living at 616 North Main street, says: "During the latter part of last summer I noticed growing upon me a dull aching across the small of my back which kept getting worse until finally the pain became so severe that I was hardly able to walk around, and many times could not attend to my household duties. The troubles I believe came from my kidneys for I suffered from other distressing symptoms of complaint. I was subject to most severe headaches and frequent attack of dizziness. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and my husband got a box for me. They did me a wonderful amount of good. I felt much better and stronger in every way than I had for some years. I do not know what I should have done if it had not been for Doan's Kidney Pills."

LARGE CROWD
OF MEN ONLY

Heard Evangelist Chester
Birch at Tabernacle Sun-Day Afternoon.

Mr. Birch's sermon, "Show Your Hand," was a grand call to men to abandon their besetting sin, whatever it might be, and turn to God. He emphasized the fact that a man may be a good citizen and yet have the withered hand from holding too fast to the dollar, he may be too much absorbed in the accumulation of wealth, temper may have so strong a hold upon him as to cause a man to send the knife to the hilt in the breast of a fellow man, or send the bullet through the brain of a friend. He also dwelt at length on the habit of swearing and drinking, citing instances where the love of drink had robbed a man's family of food and his finally giving up every one dearest to him for the accursed stuff. He made no war on the men who sell the vile stuff, and would not so long as towns and cities license the men to sell. He rather inferentially threw the responsibility on the citizens who elect men who legalize the sale of it by issuing license.

Mr. Birch's face to face talk to the men present, who, he believed, composed the better portion of our population, received the very closest attention and doubtless produced a lasting impression.

At the conclusion of his sermon he thanked the lodges and all present for honoring him with their presence and attention, and then called upon those who wanted to lead a better life to go forward and give him their hand. A dozen and a half responded to the call.

NOTES.

Mr. Birch's solo, "My Old Kentucky Home," with trombone and piano accompaniment, was played in a way that showed his masterful use of his instrument, his gold cornet, given him by the ministers of St. Louis several years ago.

As a trombonist Mr. J. Hebbel is a decided success.

Dr. C. G. Wilson, of Clarksville, who kindly came over to preside at the piano, did his work finely, and there was general regret at the head of Prof. Deadrick, of the S. W. P. University, could not remain to the night service.

The singing by those on the platform and the congregation was excellent, and no one enjoyed it more than Mr. Birch, who at times must have imagined himself again leading one of his old bands or choruses.

Prof. Deadrick is said to be a fine vocalist and was to have sung "Tell Mother I'll Be There." Mr. Birch expressed his regret to Prof. Deadrick at not sparing him time out of his sermon for his solo, but had hoped that the Professor would remain and sing at the night service.

Mr. Kincannon, the all-round singer and character man of the city, sang very effectively "Will There Be Any Stars in My Crown?" and was heartily joined by the crowd in the chorus.

The Night Service.

The popular meeting at the tabernacle Sunday night brought out very nearly a capacity house, if not quite so. The different ministers of the city omitted their night services and were on the platform to encourage Evangelist Birch in his work. The sermon was one of the strongest the evangelist has yet delivered. The latter part of it was particularly impressive. By repeated requests Mr. Birch used his cornet in a solo, rendering "Nearer My God, to Thee" so sweetly that the almost heavenly tones will long echo in the memory of his thousands of hearers.

We regret that want of space forbids our mentioning at length this grand gathering of our people to hear Mr. Birch, for it was most evident that ministers, people of the churches and outsiders would rejoice to have the meetings continued beyond the limit fixed. Wednesday night, but Mr. Birch is due in some part of Pennsylvania in a few days, and will have to close the meeting on that night. He announced that the meetings, both at night and in the afternoon, would be in the tabernacle as the First Presbyterian church cannot hold anything like half the people who want to attend the services.

SCORE OF GOVERNMENT EXHIBITS.

Much Official Interest in the Big Event Which Will Open
March 18.

Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States; William H. Taft, Secretary of War; Leslie M. Shaw, Secretary of the Treasury; V. H. McCall, Secretary of the Navy; Postmaster General Cortelyou, and Patent Commissioner Allen, all having joined together with the officials of the Greater Louisville Exposition Company in their effort to obtain attractive exhibits for the big Louisville event, it is now assured that Louisville will be able to offer to her visitors, from March 18 to 30, an opportunity of seeing the most novel collection of government exhibits ever shown in any great exposition. President Roosevelt has graciously agreed to press the button which will officially set the exposition in motion, and has instructed Secretary Taft to make the necessary arrangements for the ceremony which will take place in his office on March 18.

The government exhibits are now in process of packing, it is understood, and they will soon be on their way to Louisville, where they will be seen by countless Kentuckians and other Southerners, as well as the people in a broad strip of Indiana and scattered delegations from nearly all the large cities in the United States where the Greater Louisville Exposition is about to be initiated. The arrangements which were begun during the month of December by A. T. Macdonald, President of the Exposition Company, were recently completed by Fred Levy, its Vice President, both of whom made lengthy trips to Washington, being greatly assisted by Kentucky Congressmen and government officials.

According to the latest plans, there will be sent to Louisville from the Treasury Department complete exhibits of the currency of the United States, and the various issues of internal revenue stamps which have been at different periods of our national life. Both of these exhibits are very valuable, and heavy loads were required of the Exposition Company, showing that Uncle Sam values his relics and takes every precaution to protect them from harm or loss. These exhibits are attractively framed with the view of allowing the closest possible inspection without handling. They will be under the direct supervision of Sergeant Hittager, of the War Department, who, it is supposed at present, will be sent to Louisville to have general supervision over all government exhibits. Besides the stamps and currency notes, the Treasury Department has consented to send to Louisville a frame containing all the medals which have been voted to individuals by Congress since the first one, which was voted to George Washington. These medals have a value in historical and memorial ways. They commemorate various deeds of heroism and statesmanship, and should be viewed with intense interest by all who see them.

The Navy Department will send to Louisville a model of the battleship Kentucky, which will show in every detail the lines of that great fighting machine. The model will be twelve feet long, and will occupy the place of honor in the great machine lobby in the Exposition Building. It will be placed where all who enter the building will see it, and will have an opportunity to study its appearance. The people of Kentucky gave a magnificent silver service to be used on this battleship. It will be interesting to see what manner of vessel it is, and how it is hardly a community in the State which did not contribute to the fund which was raised for the purchase of the silver service. Besides the beautiful model, there will be sent from the Navy Department a number of excellent photographs showing the various war vessels of the navy under varied conditions. The exhibits from the War Department will surely find a great deal of enlightenment for those who live far inland and do not frequently come in touch with things of the sea. The War Department, requisitioning on the Rock Island Arsenal, will send to the Greater Louisville Exposition a big field gun and two rapid fire guns, besides samples of the ammunition used by them. Twenty stands of the rifles now in use in the United States Army, and a stand of flags will also be sent. In order to show some of the appliances used by the United States Army in the Philippine Islands, the War Department will send to the Exposition a cart to which will be attached a life size cast of a carabao, which animal is a peculiar looking ox with horns like those of a goat which grow to be sent. In order to show some of the appliances used by the United States Army in the Philippine Islands, the War Department will send to the Exposition a cart to which will be attached a life size cast of a carabao, which animal is a peculiar looking ox with horns like those of a goat which grow to be sent.

Those who have braved no war danger will be accurately shown what danger lurks over those who go to battle, and there will be many of them all parts of this State who will see what their fathers before them faced, and they, as a rule, are themselves ready to face in defense of the flag. These exhibits will be shipped to Norfolk for the Jamestown Exposition as soon as the Greater Louisville Exposition closes. In every respect the War Department treated the Greater Louisville officials with the same courtesy and attention that they have accorded to officials of other great expositions in the past.

The Postoffice Department consented to the request of the Greater Louisville Exposition officials to establish in the Exposition Building a model substitution postoffice which will show throughout the exposition period the handling of United States mails. As a decorative feature in the postoffice exhibits from this department will be shown. It is said by many who have seen this dead letter exhibit that it is among the most interesting examples of the work done by the Postoffice Department that can be found anywhere. When the exposition closes, the exhibition postoffice will be put in use as a Louisville substitution.

Besides the other exhibits of the Treasury Department, it was at first proposed by the officials of the Exposition to borrow from the Treasury Department a coin stamping machine upon which to make the exposition souvenirs. When it was found that a die maker in Louisville uses an exact replica of the treasury machine the provision of his business it is decided that the souvenir coins of the exposition could be better made in this Louisville concern, and this plan was adopted so that the exposition, even to the matter of stamped souvenirs, will be truly "Everything Made in Louisville."

EXPOSITION BRIEFS.

Matters of Big Importance Put in Condensed Form.

The hotel keepers of Louisville, recognizing war friends and old friends in all Kentuckians, have announced that no advance in their rates will be made during the exposition period. They, as well as all other citizens of Louisville, are strongly for Louisville and for Kentucky all the time. Ingenious Kentuckians will be much to please them in the display of inventions, which is now almost complete. In the Greater Louisville Exposition, Every inventor in Louisville has been asked to exhibit the offspring of his ingenuity, and the result will be a remarkable showing. It may be that some visitors will be able to get illuminating ideas from this display.

Louisville streets will be brilliantly illuminated during the two weeks from March 18 to 30. The Division of Works, which has this in charge, will have lots of work on their hands, for Louisville's streets are long and wide. Initiations of the Greater Louisville Exposition are still strongly in evidence. In all likelihood, Kansas City will follow Louisville's lead next year, according to the latest advice from the city on the Kaw.

Many "oldest inhabitants" have recalled former expositions given in Louisville, and the Greater Louisville Exposition does not suffer any by comparison with them.

Unfortunate Move.

Mr. Jack MacCarroll, who sold out his farming implements and furniture and started to Dallas, Texas, on the 12th of February, has gotten no farther than Memphis. When he and his family reached Memphis he was compelled to stop on account of a well developed case of measles. He leased a house there and with his family went to house-keeping until he gets well. Mr. MacCarroll had secured a fine position in a railroad office at Dallas, provided he reached the city at a certain date. Failing to do this on account of his sickness, he lost his position. His friends here hope that something else will "turn up" for him.

A STORY FROM MUNICH.

Low Municipal Ownership Works in That Fine Old German City.

To the Editor: Sir—Noticing your interest in all matters pertaining to municipal ownership, I trust that it will extend to the following statement of an actual occurrence of some three or four years ago on the municipal tramway of Munich, Germany.

A grand fair was being held near the state of Bavaria, which is in one of the suburbs of Munich. This district is reached by a municipal car line which passes through a thickly settled residential district, the many inhabitants of which are dependent on the car line for their daily transportation to the centers of business and industry and the factories in which they work. When the populace and country people from surrounding towns swarmed out to the fair they boarded the cars in great numbers.

But there is an ordinance strictly limiting the number of persons who shall ride on a car at one time to the seating capacity and possibly a few others, say the standing capacity of the rear platform. This ordinance the populace entirely disregarded in their great anxiety to get to and especially from the fair in the evening.

As a popular punishment for this unheeded disrespect for the police ordinances the authorities without further ado took all the cars off the line and proposed to keep them off for some weeks. Popular indignation, however, was so great that the cars were restored to service on the line after only three days' suspension. This was done by calling to the attention of the bureaucratic minds of the municipal authorities the fact that in seeking to punish the patrons of the fair they were incidentally depriving all the inhabitants of a large district of the city of any transportation means of reaching their daily work.

While this may be an acute example of the overbearing attitude of German officials, still I can testify from personal experience as a traveler and student in Germany that it is but illustrative of their general attitude toward the public. I presume that the attitude must come from the extent to which government enterprise enters into all branches of service in Germany, although apparently not with the overwhelming success with which some credit it. For instance, the average cost of a ton mile of freight on the government railways of Germany is 1.275 cents as compared with 1.725 cents in the same year for the railways of the United States. A TRAVELER.

A NORTH CAROLINA CONTRAST

The Water Supply of the State's Two Largest Cities.

The largest cities of North Carolina are Wilmington and Charlotte. They are about the same size, but present a sharp contrast in their water supply.

Wilmington is served by a private company, which has recently, under the direction of an eminent engineer, installed a filtration system. Not a dollar in bonds has been issued by the city for its copious supply of pure soft water.

Charlotte bought out its water company seven years ago and built a new plant at considerable expense. It is, however, been forced to return to the old pumping station and source of supply, as the water from the new plant has been declared unfit for domestic use. Incidentally water bonds to the amount of $500,000 have been issued. The Charlotte citizen pays a higher water rate than his Wilmington neighbor and then steps over to the tax office and pays his share of the interest on $500,000 bonds as well as a share of the taxes formerly paid by his water company. Here is a vivid contrast between political and private management.

A FEW MAXIMS.

Some Familiar but Valuable Truths Dressed Up in New Raiment.

Experience is said to be the only effective teacher. Most people want to get it for themselves. Only the wise are willing to take it at second hand. There is an added excitement in skating on thin ice when the hole is still unhealed where another boy disappeared.

Newspapers and the police cannot keep people out of policy shops, and the dealers in green goods still find customers after these many years. We laugh at the "hayseed" and a year later paper our walls with mining stock certificates.

The less we know about the game the surer we are of winning.

One city may do the Nexus shirt of municipal ownership while another is struggling to free itself from its stinging folds. We are still a young nation. As we grow older we will not be so ready to pay scalper's prices for tickets that are not honored at the door.

Leased For Three Years.

The Electrical Work Records the leasing of the municipal light and water plant of Silem Springs, Ark., for $600 a year. As the plant cost $30,000 and the city has to pay 6 per cent interest this rental provides for only two-fifths of the interest charge. As the plant has been in operation only eight years, the depreciation of $18,000, shown by the rental value, figures out at 7.5 per cent a year.

The City Supplies the Water.

An exchange states that the board of aldermen of Burlington, Vt., has defied the state board of health by refusing to post public fountains in the city with a warning that the water is not fit for drinking purposes.

New Field for Faking.

"Even flowers and fruits are faked," said one of the judges of a flower show. "If we are not careful, we would as well plant the things on extra ends. To violets and other odoriferous blooms they give a stronger perfume by means of a spray laid with the coldest scent. It's the same thing with fruits. To apples, peaches and grapes a lovely delicate bloom is given with rosin and powder."

Some of these exhibitors—and they may be good men, too; they may be gardeners for multi-millionaires—deepen their flowers' color by dyeing them. If there are not quite leaves enough on the plant, they give on extra ones. To violets and other odoriferous blooms they give a stronger perfume by means of a spray laid with the coldest scent. It's the same thing with fruits. To apples, peaches and grapes a lovely delicate bloom is given with rosin and powder."

Instructions to Packers.

Guthrie, Ky., March 1, '07.

To the Prizers:
The object of this is to call your attention to the following instructions, given the general inspector by the Executive Committee at its last meeting. "When a hoghead of tobacco shows damage by reason of bad packing, you shall notify the Prizer, the salesman and the owner of the tobacco; have the damage assessed and collect such damage from the prizer."

This means that the inspection will be very thorough, impartial and will therefore show up the careless and dishonest packer. It being the Committee's intention that the Association's reputation for honest packing and honest sampling shall be maintained. It also means that all bad packing will be reported to the committee and the grading of the prizes will be based on these reports. In view of the above I urge you to look very carefully after your packing, to the end that every one may get justice.

Yours very truly,
W. E. FRAZER.

MEETINGS CLOSED.

Evangelist Birch's Ten Days'
Meeting Did Much Good.

Rev. E. H. Bull, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, announced at the Tabernacle Tuesday night that the evangelistic services would close Wednesday night. He said that Wednesday night was regular prayer-meeting night with all the churches and intimated that he could not reasonably expect the pastors to set aside their meetings and attend the tabernacle service. From what we were able to learn yesterday it was probable that some of the pastors might unite with Mr. Bull at the tabernacle.

Tuesday night Mr. Birch preached one of the best sermons of the services on honestly seeking after christ. As usual, he received the closest attention.

Advertisers have again forced us
to yield several of our reading columns to them, and we cannot give the meeting the attention it deserves. On the second page of today's paper will be found a full account of last Sunday's services.

Mr. Birch has done a great work here, but the fruits of his labors cannot yet be summarized. He seems to have made friends of everybody and all wish for him health and great success in the future. He left on the 10 o'clock train last night for Chicago. In a few days he goes to Pennsylvania to resume his work.

HOG CHOLERA

The Hog worm is the most Dangerous foe of the Hog

In almost every outbreak of cholera you will find the hogs very wormy. They get a hog out of condition and unthrifty. Then he is an easy prey to disease. The Snoddy Remedy will destroy every character of hog worm. Even the liver and lung worm, which are the most dangerous, are easily destroyed with the Snoddy Remedy. Ten cents worth of the Snoddy Remedy will clear out the worms and purify the blood of a hundred pound hog, so that he will be worth one dollar or more in a few weeks than he would have gained without this remedy.

Can't you afford to invest ten cents per head to make your shoats worth a dollar per head more than they will without this little investment? Then why waste time and feed on wormy runty hogs when it is easy to have them thrifty? It also prevents and cures Hog Cholera. Any practical farmer can stop the worst outbreak of cholera that ever came with it and restore his herd to thrift in a few days' time.

It is used and endorsed by the leading hog raisers of the country. Snoddy's free book on the care and management of hogs, so as to keep them thrifty and clear of cholera or worms, can be had by calling on the Planters Hdw. Co. Inc., Hopkinsville, Ky., and E. W. Stegar & Dixon, Masonville, Ky. They also keep the remedy for sale.

MILLER-HESTER.

Todd County Farmer Comes to Christian for Wife.

Mr. George T. Miller, of near Elkton, and Miss Zaidie Rosalind Hester, of this county, were married at 8:30 o'clock last evening at the home of Elder W. E. Mobley, in Elkton. Rev. Mobley performed the ceremony. Only a few of the most intimate friends of the couple witnessed the happy affair.

The bride wore an old rose broadcloth silk, with white lace and pearl trimmings, picture hat, and carried a bouquet of white LaFrance roses, tied with old rose muline. The groom wore the conventional black suit. They entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, rendered by Miss Grace Penick. Shortly after the ceremony was said Mr. Miller and his bride left for the home of the groom's parents, where a reception followed. They will reside a few miles south of Elkton.

The bride is a very pretty, attractive and accomplished young woman and has been a teacher in the public schools of this county for some time. The groom is a well known and prosperous farmer and lives in the Bell's chapel neighborhood.

Growth of Canning.

In 1880 there were 400 canning establishments in the United States, with a capital of $8,000,000 and an annual product of $17,000,000. To-day there are nearly 2,500 establishments, with a capital of $50,000,000 and an annual product of about $110,000,000. In 1905, according to the census figures, 39,988 people were employed in canning establishments, and they received $10,428,521 in wages.

REAR-ADMIRAL HIGBORN PRAISES PE-RU-NA.

Peruna Drug Co.,

Columbus, Ohio.

Gentlemen:—After the use of Peruna for a short period, I can now cheerfully recommend your valuable remedy to any one who is in need of an invigorating tonic.

Very respectfully,
PHILIP HIGBORN.

REAR-ADMIRAL HIGBORN.

ALL the men and women who have used Peruna and found it beneficial should write testimonials giving the plain facts, we would be overwhelmed with certificates.

But only now and then one who has been benefited by Peruna stops to give any public acknowledgment of a cure. Various considerations prevent people from writing testimonials for publication. Inordinate modesty, oversensitiveness and business considerations forbid many people from writing testimonials who otherwise would be glad to do so.

All Classes Represented.

But in spite of all these considerations, thousands of people without any solicitation have written testimonials for Peruna. We receive these from men of high degree and low degree, from the army and the navy, from the hall of congress, from the colleges, from high officials in the church, from the society belle and the washerwoman, from the military man and the civilian.

We have never put into print but a small per cent, of those actually received.

Sincere Testimony.

In presenting the testimonial of Admiral Highborn we appreciate the high rank of our testifier.

We feel sure that his testimonial will appeal to others as it does to us, that nothing but a genuine wish to do others good would have impelled a man in such honorable rank to give public testimony to any remedy, however valuable.

The Admiral is altogether too busy a man to answer letters of inquiry, but the reader can rest assured that his testimonial is given in his exact words, over his signature.

Genuine Endorsements.

Our testimonials are and always have been given in the exact language of the testifier, with which we take no liberties whatever in adding to or changing them. In the use of testimonials we have always received them properly signed, in good faith, have published them in good faith, and if there has arisen a slight misunderstanding concerning them, it has been some unavoidable complication occurring after the testimonial has been furnished us.

A Captain's Letter.

Rudolph B. Schwickardi, Capt. 39th N. Y. Vol. Inf., writes from Washington, D. C.:

"Having the fullest confidence in the efficacy of Peruna, both as a tonic and as a remedy for catarrhal trouble, I commend its use in the strongest possible terms. It should be in every household."

Pastor Uses Pe-ru-na.

Rev. P. E. Swanson, box 228, Grantsburg, Wis., writes:

"I feel that it is my duty as well as a pleasure to let you know that I am entirely cured. I have used Peruna according to your personal directions and I am very glad that I found a medicine which would cure after three years of suffering."

Editor's Recommendation.

Good M. Armstrong, city editor, Daily Gazette, Delaware, Ohio, writes:

"It gives me great pleasure to be able to recommend Peruna to everybody who is looking for a first-class tonic. Two bottles completely cured me and now I am enjoying the best of health."

Congressmen Endorse Pe-ru-na.

Hon. W. E. Andrews, Hastings, Neb., formerly vice-president of Hastings College and ex-member of the Fifty-fourth Congress, writes:

"I cheerfully recommend the preparation, Peruna, as a healthful tonic and a successful remedy for catarrh in its various forms."

Author Praises Pe-ru-na.

Mr. Robert E. Harvey, well-known author and lecturer, writes from 11 S. Lincoln street, Chicago, Ill.:

"I was in good health until about four years ago when my back became lame and sore. The pains kept increasing with severe twitches and slow exhaustive spasms. Having read of Peruna, I decided to try it. I found relief in a few days. Within three months I was well once more. I give all thanks to Peruna."

CITY BIG ENOUGH

To Furnish Two Big Crowds at Same Time.

No better proof as to the large population of Hopkinsville can be furnished than that of last Monday night, which was Elks night at the opera house. Though the capacity of the place of amusement was filled almost to overflowing, yet the lower floor, excepting the seats under the gallery, was filled to hear the sermon by evangelist Birch at the tabernacle. There is no longer a question as to the city being able to supply two large crowds at one time when the attractions are sufficient to draw them out.

PLAG ON NEW BUILDING'S TOP.

Custom May Come from Admiral Von Tromp's Masthead Broom.

"Why is it customary to place an American flag on the highest point of the framework of a new skyscraper
 as soon as it is finished?" said an architect, after watching the dizzy feat of climbing necessary for this accomplishment on the monster new office building of the Trust Company
 of America, in Wall street.

"Well, I don't know," said his companion. "I've often wondered at it myself, but I've never been able to find out. It's just a custom, and where it started no one seems to know."

"The practice isn't due to any particular exhibition of patriotism on the part of the workmen, and yet
 it is a feature that is never omitted.
 Carpenters do the same thing when they place a brush or sprig of green
 on the highest point of a frame building. It may be, too, that it is the modern equivalent of a crown of rays. It's just a custom, like naming ships."

Occasionally a broom is used, instead of a flag, and in this substitute
 one gets a hint of the possible origin of the custom, by going back to the days of Admiral Tromp of the Dutch navy. This redoubtable seaman so harried British shipping in the time of Charles II, that his name became a terror throughout England and to signify his intention of sweeping the sea clean of all opposing forces or, in other words, of making a sweep of his undertaking, he fixed a broom to the masthead of his flagship. Nowadays a broom is sometimes affixed to the masthead by Uncle Sam's men, but the significance of the act is different. It merely indicates that a long, wor-
 some trick of sea duty has been accomplished. The ship starts for home and shore duty with a broomstick pointing skyward from the masthead. It is likely that the idea was adopted by the carpenters in bygone days, and by them passed on to the iron workers who take the steel of the modern office building to such dizzy heights.

WOULDN'T PAY FOR EGGS.
 "Gimme 18 soft-boiled eggs," said
 customer in a restaurant at 2915
 Belmont avenue, and a waiter in a Frank Meles, the proprietor, filled the order and the customer ate
 the eggs.
 "How much?" he inquired.
 "One dollar,"
 Meles then attacked the customer
 with a razor. A policeman happened in at that moment and arrested both men. The customer failed to appear in police court. Meles was fined five dollars, which he paid.

BOONE AND THE BIBLE.
 Daniel Boone was never without his trusty rifle. A missionary who preached peace on earth, good will to men, took him to task after a long harangue. "Why not leave your rifle behind, Old Boone, when you come to church?" he said.
 "Don't you believe the Holy Book of God is a sufficient protection?"
 Boone smiled and kissed the gun as he answered: "Preacher, the Bible's all right, and has my good will and respect; but it don't kill wild Indians."

THE WORM SIGHT TEST.

When I told him that to test what can be borne by human frailty, Fate often chooses some weak woman and piles upon her shoulders woe and grief enough to crush a Cyclops, and yet she bears it, often without complaint—true to her husband and her children—she laughed, but it was not from the heart!

No "Bussing" nor Kissing.
 There was a young lady from White
 Who flung with a queer little twist
 A man tried to both her—
 Said she, "Oh, my mother
 Forbids that I be kissed or kissed!"

Ten mills make a cent, ten cents
 make a dime, ten dimes make a dollar, ten dollars make a millionaire to sit up and take notice—and ten millions make all the money there is going.

While I was in New York City recently, a smart young man with a set of goatee teeth and an impediment
 in his speech that made you gory
 when talking to him, that you had left
 your umbrella and ran coat at home, cornered me in a cigar store and
 asked, sprightlyly:

"How should I know?" said I. "I'm a married man!"
 "Why, she cannot look under the bed for her husband!" he said. "I've
 'Ascent' I thought, disparagingly,
 'very good, very good, but tell me,
 kind sir of the sprinkling can office,
 why does a lady elephant never travel
 without her trunk?"
 He looked foolish for a minute and then said he'd give it up.
 "In the first place," said I, "she has to take her trunk because he loaned her value to a man who wanted to carry a grip full of postholes to Indian, Wis. but while out collecting the holes, he chanced to wonder where the wind was when it didn't blow! This suddenly reminded him of the great problem, 'Where, oh, where,
 are the holes in last year's doughnuts?' The man is now inventing perpetual motion, in an insane asylum."

"The other reason is that whenever he hears of the probable return of his children, I am always reminded of the year of the big wind!"
 The shower-bath man seemed dazed
 for a minute, so I shot another at him:
 "Why does a woman tell a funny story the same way she throws her curling iron at the cat?"
 He didn't know.
 "Because," said I, "a black cat's tail is not a piece of florid root!"
 "Then I tried this one:"
 "When Hawaya asked her, 'Why is a hen a what then?'"
 He refused to tell.
 "It made Minnehaha!" said I, proudly—and he went away mad!

While in New York I went to the theatre. Here I found that a mere minor of them had secured many girl's theatrical engagements. One of the girls in the play came out, dressed in an abbreviated and a bland smile,
 and sweetly-sung, "I was to be an angel!" and, honestly, her dress was low enough to give the wings a chance to sprout!

One of the Cholly boys got the mif-
 ten right there at the door.
 "Oh, come on, Mac!" pleaded the gilded youth. "Why won't you come on?"
 "Because," said Maggie, and that was the reason.

This reminds me that every girl cannot be beautiful, but she may at least keep her ears clean. I once knew an old bachelor who was a woman hater. He said only the female acquiescence bit.

"Many a woman that smokes cigarettes," said he, with venom in his eye, "permits her pug dog to kiss her.
 Shall we not have our dogs?" I noticed, said he, "that Kansas has a bevy of women blacksmiths. It is presumed that when shoeing a horse, they ride side-saddle! A woman cannot talk and chew gum at the same time, anyhow," said he. My, but he was a mean man! "One half the world," he declared, "does not know how the other half lives, but the version is simply this: the women have never tried to find out!" A Kansas friend of his, he insists, does not want to go to Heaven for fear of meeting
 his first wife there!

According to statistics Kansas last year raised over a bushel of wheat for every man, woman and child in the United States. Will the fellow that got two bushels, please send me
 mine?

It was in the civil government class
 that the teacher asked the new pupil
 how the president of the United States was elected. William, having been raised in an intensely partisan county, promptly replied, "By a big majority, ma'am!"

RYING FOR DEAR LIFE.

Graphic Description of Tremendous Over-
 Fat and its Elements.

Fashion's face by this time had taken on the waxen shade that comes with death, and he appeared to be looking through a haze. His senses were leaving him. I saw something must be done at once. I saw that only a fire could save his life, and perhaps mine, and that we must have it quickly, and made one more superhuman effort with the matches.
 One after another I tried them with the same result as before until but three matches. The first one flickered for a moment and my hopes rose, but my poor benumbed fingers refused to hold it and it fell into the snow and went out. The wind was driving the low bottom. I tried another—an old sulphur match. I remember, it burned, I applied it with the greatest care to a handful of the hairy moss that is found under the branches next the trunk of spruce trees, and this ignited. Then I put on small sticks, nursing the blaze with the greatest care, adding larger sticks as the smaller one took fire. I had dropped on my knees and clasped the sticks from where I knelt, for there was plenty of dead wood lying about. As the blaze grew I rose to my feet and, dragging larger wood, piled it on. A sort of joyful mania took possession of me as I watched the great fountains of flames shooting skyward and listened to the crackling of the burning
 wood, and I stood back and laughed.
 I had triumphed over fate and the elements.—Outing Magazine.

PLENTY OF KID, ALL THE SAME.

TIE TO YOUR BEST FRIEND.

Your friend is the one who appreciates you—your faults as well as your virtues—who understands and sympathizes with your defeats and victories, your aims and ideals, your joys and temptations, your hopes and disappointments, as no one else
 does or can.

It is to your friend to whom you turn for counsel, for comfort, for praise; he may not be as learned as some or as wise as others, but it surfaces that he understands you, and even his quiet listening gives strength and renewed courage.

Blessed is the man or woman into whose life has come the beauty and power of such a friendship.

GET THE HABIT.

There is virtue in acquiring the habit of doing the right thing for no other reason than that it is the right thing. Going to church, daily prayer, the daily reading of the Bible as a veritable word from God
 —these are things concerning the value of which there is dispute.
 Get the habit of doing them, and even when they have become only a habit they serve as a restraint from sin. But seek earnestly to prevent the habit from becoming "only a habit" by remembering them as actual approaches to the presence and the majesty of God.—Detroit Free Press.

 and that didn't do any damage, but Bilkins said it could have tipped the milk over and ruined the rug."

A Heavy Load to Carry

"ALL IS WELL THAT ENDS WELL."

Along with dyspepsia comes nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and the products assimilated by the system.
 On the other hand the blood is charged with poisons which come from this dis-ordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good, red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and general breakdown. It is not hard work that does this poor stomach work.
 With poor, thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a rare combination of the most potent and purest of natural and artificial ingredients. A particularly dangerous disease.
 No man is stronger than his stomach.
 Let the greatest ailment have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies.
 Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food enters into the body and is used. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. The stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body grows weaker as a result is made up of the several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a whole is made up of "weak" stomach will be distributed among all organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in face, and hands, in hands and feet equally. So also will the weakness of the stomach be found in the liver, kidneys, liver, kidneys, etc., being proportionately weak according to the amount of the reduction of their daily ration of nutrition.

By way of example take the case of the Assistant Treasurer of the Catholic Priests at Quebec, Mr. Louis Paret, who writes:

"For years after my health began to fail,
 my head grew dizzy, eyes failed me, and my stomach was all the time while everything I ate seemed to go down to my heart on my stomach. The doctors should have given me the medicine to dyspepsia, and prescribed for me
 Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and I felt no better. My wife advised me to stop taking the doctors' medicine? The bottle was a bottle and we soon found began to improve, so I kept up the treatment. The doctor's medicine worked, but normal, the digestive organs worked, but normal. I can never cease to be grateful for the relief of my daily ration of food
 I certainly give it higher praise."

THE SECRET OUT.

To refute the many false and malicious statements published by competing and disreputable medicine concerning Dr. Pierce's World-famous Family Medicine the Doctor has decided to publish all the ingredients entering into his "Golden Medical Discovery."
 Every man, woman and child entering the great Laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., will be upon it a full list of all the ingredients entering into the compound, printed in plain English.

These ORIGINAL Little Liver Pills, first put up by Dr. D. C.
 K. V. Pierce over 20 years ago, have been much imitated, but never equalled. They're made of purely vegetable, concentrated and refined medicine principles, extracted from native American roots and plants. They gently relieve and cure foul, torpid and deranged Stomachs, Livers and Bowels and their attendant distressing ailments. One or two laxative, three or four a cathartic.

Social Foul Said to Be Cause of Chairman Shonts' Resignation from Panama Canal Commission—Study of "Fire Alarm" Foraker of Ohio—Other Gossip from Washington.

WASHINGTON.—"Official etiquette" and snobishness in capital society, of which his wife and daughters, Theodora and Marguerite, were victims, is declared to be the real cause of Theodore P. Shonts' resignation from his $20,000 a year position as chairman of the Panama canal commission.

It was natural for outsiders to suppose that when Mr. Shonts came here from Chicago as chairman of the commission he would take high rank in the government and have a correspondingly high social status in the fabric of Washington. Mr. Shonts, who was president of a railroad, did not realize that the actual control over the digging of the canal had been officially placed in the hands of the secretary of war, who was paid $25,000 a year.

Mrs. Shonts also misunderstood her rank in society, and out of the misapprehension grew a social conflict so great that President Roosevelt had to settle it. The president ruled that the isthmian canal commission takes rank immediately after the interstate commerce commission. Chairman Shonts, therefore, was outranked socially by Chairman Knapp, by the civil service commission and by the records and secretary of the Smithsonian institute to say nothing of the members of the cabinet, the diplomatic corps, the justices, senators, representatives and delegates in congress, and commissioners and judicial officers of the District of Columbia.

The commission, by official writ, was put to lay down the list that the wife of its chairman would have had to make her first call on several hundred other women to have kept in harmony with the Washington social code. This is a matter of the gravest import in Washington society.

The trouble was accentuated by Mrs. Shonts' social secretary, who advised her to limit her calls to wives of only high "official rank." Calls which visited her should have been made, and invitations declined which would better have been accepted. On the other hand, calls were made and invitations accepted which did not in any way further the social status of the chairman of the canal commission and his family.

Out of the empty developing resulted the resignation.

FORAKER THE SAME FIGHTER AS OF OLD.

Just now Senator Joseph Benson Foraker of Ohio is one of the most prominent public men standing in the national limelight. Two causes carefully planned, the other accidental—bring Foraker well into the prom of the political storm of the country.

First he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for president in 1908; second, he is the self-avowed antagonist of the present incumbent of the White House and all his works.

In both these situations Foraker stands out primarily as a fighter. And as a fighter the characteristics of the man and the methods of the man appeal to all dabblers in the picturesque chronology of the day.

Foraker is one of the men in the senate who works. His enemies may say he is bitter; they may say he is vindictive; they may even say he is vindictive, but they cannot deny that he is everlastingly, incessantly busy.

He is up every morning before daylight, and it is after midnight nearly every night before he retires. During the most active sessions of the senate—no matter what fight he may have on hand—he never neglects to keep up his extensive line of reading.

Without exception, he is undoubtedly one of the best Latin and Greek scholars in public life. But busy as he is in Washington with the affairs of the nation and the affairs of his state—which state, by the way, keeps its senators fully occupied—he remains in close touch with the law, and does more legal practice when in Cincinnati than any other man in the United States senate.

That he is one of the hardest workers in congress is an established fact, but despite his hard work, he maintains his health.

Those who heard Senator Foraker make his Brownsville speech in the senate the other day, and who knew him in the old Ohio fights, recognize in him the same old "Fire Alarm" Foraker. They recognized in him the same quick spirit of retort—the same eager attention—the same alertness to recover a lost point. He is the same Foraker that he was 50 years ago. 75 years have whitened his hair, but it has not dimmed the enthusiasm and the fighting spark that has been within him since those school days when he "licked" his playmates.

NEGROES ARE SERVED IN RESTAURANT OF HOUSE.

Southerners are indignant because the other day for the first time in the memory of members of congress negroes have been served at the house of representatives' restaurant.

While several southern men were dining in the portion reserved for members and their guests, a negro accompanied by a white woman entered, took seats at an adjoining table and ordered food as coolly as though they had no idea of the precedents they were smashing.

The negro waiters served them with alacrity. Adamson, of Georgia; Randall, of Louisiana; Taylor, of Alabama, and a few other southerners were dining in the same room.

Representative Weeks, of Massachusetts, and Gardner, of Michigan, at an adjoining table, waited to see what the southern members would do. They did nothing. They continued to eat without starting a lynching bee.

After they had returned to the Democratic cloakroom they decided to "cut" dining in the house restaurant hereafter. "We are not in the habit of dining with negroes," said one of them, "and we don't propose to do so now even if it is permitted at the capitol."

And only Saturday Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, gloated over the fact that there were places in Washington where negroes "could not drink" with white men, and you senators know it is true.

"It is a good thing Senator Tillman was not eating in there when that colored man sat down," commented one of the negro waiters after the restaurant episode had occurred, "because there sure would have been something doing."

FROG INDUSTRY FAILS TO IMPRESS CONGRESSMEN.

Frogs are responsible for the abolition of one of the great agricultural department bureaus which spends annually about $50,000.

This is the biological survey. When the item was reached in the agricultural appropriation bill the committee wanted to know exactly what the biological survey was.

"It is now engaged in establishing a new industry," a member of the committee answered. "What is this new industry that has been going on at $50,000 a year?" Representative Lamb of Virginia asked.

"It is studying zones in which frogs are the most prolific in what kind of water they prefer to live, and how they can be raised," Representative Brooks told him.

"It don't take any $50,000 a year for me to tell where frogs live and in what kind of water," Mr. Lamb insisted.

"That the frog industry bids fair to be important," Representative Brooks insisted.

"Only Frenchmen eat frog legs," insisted Representative Trimble of Kentucky, "and I'm opposed to raising frogs for our French population. If they must have frogs, let 'em bring 'em with 'em. It's class discrimination."

"We have born toads in New Mexico," "Bull" Andrews explained.

"But I never heard of even a Digger Indian eating them."

"I've eaten frog legs and found them mighty good," Chairman Wads worth said.

"Well, I wouldn't tell it," Scottfield of Texas interrupted.

A majority of the committee agreed with Mr. Lamb. The appropriation was not put in. This will knock out Dr. Charles T. Merriam, of biological assistant, and clerks and messengers enough to make a salary roll on $2,000, together with the regular appropriation made for the bureau.

Friends of the frog hope to get a provision inserted in the senate.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of the world.

The Well Informed of the World.

A vast fund of personal knowledge is really essential to the achievement of the highest excellence in any field of human effort.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the well informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to worldwide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

FUNDS FOR JAMESTOWN.

Commissioner Jno. B. Atkinson Makes a Good Start.

HALF OF SUM RAISED.

Other Citizens Are Urged to Lend a Helping Hand.

Mr. Jno. B. Atkinson, of Lexington, of the Jamestown Commission, spent Tuesday in the city soliciting subscriptions for the $541 fund Christian county has been asked to contribute, of the $40,000 needed.

Some counties have already raised more than asked for, but Christian has been slow to perform this patriotic duty.

The following subscriptions represent the first day's work by Mr. Atkinson:

Aeae Mills & Elevator Co.	$40
Crescent Milling Co. (chairs)	30
Forbes Mfg. Co. (trailing)	30
Forbes Mfg. Co. (cash)	25
J. H. Anderson & Co.	25
G. B. Underwood	20
Climax Milling Co. (swings)	40
John Mooney Co.	10
Sam and Henry Frankel	10
Dr. E. C. Anderson	5
J. T. Wall	$2.50
Total	$247.50

The fund still lacks $293 and Mr. J. B. Walker will have active charge of the further collections. Many merchants have promised to aid in the work and the rest of the amount will no doubt be raised by the committee, which is composed of the following gentlemen: Mayor Chas. M. Meacham, chairman; James West, George E. Gary, L. H. Davis, J. B. Jackson, W. A. Wilgus, A. W. Wood, J. B. Walker, W. T. Cooper.

Subscriptions may be paid to any one of the committeemen.

LEXINGTON

Showe Louisville How to Fasten on The Lid.

When it comes to putting on and screwing down "the lid" Lexington is greater than even "Greater Louisville." Hopkinsville can also teach a lesson to the metropolis of the State when it comes to closing saloons on Sunday.

A dispatch sent out from Lexington last Monday said that Sunday was the driest day the city had known in its history. The dispatch also said:

"This was due to the effect of the new saloon ordinance, which became operative March 1, and which not only closed saloons on Sundays, but also away with dance halls and prohibits women from entering saloons.

"Even drinking clubs, which have been substituted since the Sunday closing experiment was tried several months ago, were knocked out, and not a drop was to be had at these places yesterday. The effect was shown this morning when not a case appeared on the docket of the Police Court, where heretofore from twenty-five to seventy-five offenders constituted the usual Monday morning's docket."

JUDGE EVANS.

Has Been on Bench Eight Years—Flowers Glorify.

Last Monday was the eight anniversary of the appointment of Hon. Walter Evans, a Hopkinsville man, as U. S. District Judge. Monday morning Judge Evans found his desk in his private office covered with American Beauty roses and carnations from the hands of some of his Louisville friends, says the Times. As a judge Mr. Evans is rather a free lance, and his opinions do not always agree with those of the President. However Judge Evans can afford to be independent, as his appointment is for life. He is credited with always deciding according to his convictions of justice and right.

AMUSEMENTS.

The great Whistling show, the fanciful fairytale, "The Gingerbread Man," will be the attraction at Holland's Opera House tomorrow (Friday) night, March 8. The popularity of a musical play now-a-days is mostly determined by the number of songs and musical numbers the audience "carries on to." The New York first night of a production of this class finds the manager mingling with the departing audience listening as to which songs are popular and how many of them are being whistled. "In The Gingerbread Man" it was hard to make a decision, as every song struck the fancy of some members of the audience. It was finally decided to leave it to the discriminating part of the spectators, the gallery, and when Eddie Redway, who plays the title part, commenced the chorus of "John Dough," the entire gallery as one man took up the refrain and whistled an accompaniment. Since then it has become the most popular song in New York.

"John Dough, John Dough, They're looking for me high and low, I'm wanted for that, I'm wanted for this. For any old thing that's gone amiss; John Dough, John Dough, I'm a second cousin to Richard Roe, In do, ra, me, you plainly see, The original John Dough."

Lower Interest Rate.

At the meeting of the county committee of the tobacco association Monday a committee was appointed to arrange with the local banks for a lower rate of interest on crop advances. It is believed that our banks are willing to loan money at the same rate paid to other banks in different counties surrounding Christian.

A resolution was also adopted for the appointment of a committee whose duty it will be to prosecute a few members of the association who have sold their crops to independent buyers.

TEACHING SHORTHAND

is like teaching any other study—every teacher employs a slightly different method, but nearly all teach the same basic principles.

In teaching shorthand, we use the Barnes' Manual, compiled by Mrs. Arthur J. Barnes, of Barnes' College, the largest Commercial College in St. Louis. The author presents only the Genuine Benn Pitman system, but in the manner which her long and successful career as teacher and all round reporter has shown her to be the best. Our pupils, therefore, get the benefit of her experience. Our course of study is thorough and our teachers competent and painstaking.
